Congressman Pete Stark
Is Working to Keep America Rolling

From the Desk of
CONGRESSMAN PETE STARK

Dear Friend,

As we continue to struggle with new threats at home and abroad, I understand that the condition of our economy affects everything from the strength of our nation to the well-being of our own families. I have always supported economic measures that help working families. Now, we need to step up our efforts to keep our economy rolling – in the Bay Area and throughout America. I hope you'll join me at my town meetings on Saturday, December 8 to share your thoughts.

Sincerely,

Pete Stark

Congressman Stark discusses local issues with constituents.

Working to Strengthen the Economy

I have opposed legislation that gives new tax breaks to wealthy corporations. Instead, I am working on extending and expanding unemployment insurance and other measures that directly benefit workers who are suffering the economic effects of the recent attacks.

Prioritizing Health Care

Particularly during this economic downturn, a loss of health insurance can spell disaster for families and seniors on tight budgets. That's why I am fighting to expand COBRA health benefits for workers who have lost their jobs and to protect and improve Medicare so that it provides the benefits older Americans need – including prescription drugs. While we confront all the new challenges facing our nation at home and abroad, I am working hard to make sure that critical domestic issues, like health care, stay on the front burner in Congress.
