

Congress of the United States

Washington, DC 20515

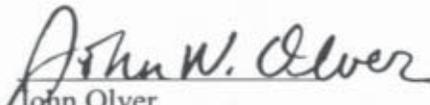

May 31, 2001

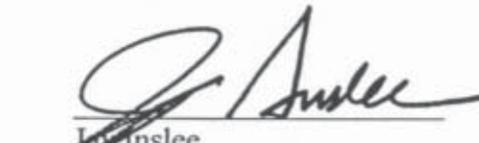

Dear Democratic Colleague:

We are writing to invite you to a member-level discussion to hear what major corporations are already doing to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions. Please join us and other members of the climate change caucus to hear from representatives of the chemical, energy, and technology industries who believe that climate change demands serious attention.

This exciting discussion will serve as a kick-off for future discussions about global warming solutions. Please join us on Wednesday June 6, 1:30-2:30 in 1334 Longworth.

Sincerely,

John Olver
Member of Congress

Jay Inslee
Member of Congress

Tom Allen
Member of Congress

Mark Udall
Member of Congress
